

Call for Work – Picturing Resistance – Submission Guidelines

Art Intersection invites photographers to submit images for consideration in Picturing Resistance, a photography exhibition of marches, protests, rallies, and demonstrations.

This six-week exhibition offers the opportunity for photographers and photojournalists to bring their work before a public audience.

In 2020 Melanie Light and Ken Light authored a book, Picturing Resistance, which serves as the inspiration for this juried exhibition, and a must own book for anyone interested in social justice movements in the past seven decades.

About the Juror

Our juror, Ken Light, photographers, author, and a Reva and David Logan Professor of Photojournalism at the University of California, Berkley will select from submitted images. Ken Light's images from his book Midnight La Frontera will be exhibited in Ryan Gallery during the Picturing Resistance exhibition.

As a freelance documentary photographer for over fifty years, he focuses on social issues facing America. A recipient of a Guggenheim Fellowship, his work has been published in twelve books, in magazines, exhibitions and numerous anthologies, exhibition catalogues and a variety of media, digital and motion picture.

His most recent book Course of the Empire published by Steidl portrays a decade of mounting tension in a polarized America, from Wall Street to the rural heartland and is a portrait of the American social landscape and is a riveting historical and visual record of a complicated country in a complicated time.

Midnight La Frontera (TBW Books) describes, in piercing words and in strobe lit images caught against the dark of night, the struggle and defiance of those who make the perilous hike for days and weeks to the California/Mexico border in search of the American Dream.
